Telling the Good News

Southwest Baptist University is a Christ-centered, caring academic community preparing students to be servant leaders in a global society.

If you have been on campus lately or have visited the SBU website, you will have seen our mission statement. As one of the newest staff members to arrive on campus, I immediately sensed that SBU's faculty, staff, students, parents, and alumni truly embrace this as a personal mission. As a marketing and communications specialist, I tend to see the world in terms of products and their benefits to the consumer. I have quickly learned that the product at SBU is a first-rate education. The many benefits of this caring, Christian academic community are what I am excited about promoting to our customers or students!

SBU is a hidden gem here in the Ozarks. I am eager and anxious to begin telling the stories. Have you heard about the successes of our students and alumni in academics, art, business, computers, debate, music, and athletics? Have you heard about the accomplishments of our faculty? Have you heard about our staff commitment to excellent customer service? Have you heard about the servant leadership exhibited during the many mission projects at home and abroad that have been undertaken by SBU people? If not, you soon will!

Do you have a story to tell about SBU? Has the university touched you or your family in a special way? Has the perspective of a Christian education changed your life in a positive way? Please share your story with us. You can help us spread the word about the many benefits of an SBU education and a community that cares.

As I work to develop an integrative marketing plan for our university, I will keep the mission statement by my side. My commitment is to measure everything we do in communicating the message of SBU against our mission. What I have learned so far is that we have good news to tell! In fact, you will read about some of it in this issue of SBU Life.

As SBU faculty and staff members endeavor to live out our mission and model servant leadership to our students, we look toward Christ as the perfect example of spreading the Good News. Ultimately, if we keep Christ in focus, we will be successful in our mission of preparing students to be servant leaders in a global society, and we will be successful in the Great Commission, too.

But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be witnesses to Me in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth. (Acts 1:8, NKJV) ■

President's Message

March madness is past, spring is in full-bloom here in Bolivar, and our hearts are filled with gratitude for God's many blessings on SBU. I am especially pleased to announce that we have met and surpassed our goals for the Partners in Excellence campaign. A total of $62.5 million has been committed to SBU during the Partners in Excellence campaign, the most successful campaign in the university's history. As a result, you might not recognize the SBU campus the next time you visit! The success of the campaign has made it possible for us to complete several construction projects and beautify our grounds. What a tremendous difference the campaign gifts have made to our university's quality of life and learning!

Projects that have been completed as a result of the campaign include:

- The Jane and Ken Meyer Wellness and Sports Center
- The Jester Learning and Performance Center
- The Plaster Athletic Center
- The Dwain and Donna Hammons Center for Facilities Excellence, which provides space for the physical plant staff
- The John Bryant Tennis Center
- Beasley, Landon, and Leslie Hall renovations
- Purchase of Maple Tree Apartments
- Renovation of The Casebolt Science and Library building on the Stufflebam Campus into apartments
- The Myrtle Glass Learning Center-Mountain View Campus
- The Gott Center for Christian Higher Education-Salem Campus
- The Killian Health Center
- The Awad Memorial Garden
- The Allen Walk of Life and many other landscaping and parking lot projects

C. Pat Taylor
President

Another blessing as a result of the Partners in Excellence campaign is the continuing growth of the endowment. Endowment growth is important as it will enhance the university's ability to build a better future.

The immediate future looks bright as our growth prospects for next year's incoming class are very encouraging. To date we have received more than 1,300 applications for admission. To put that number into perspective, we received a total of 991 applications last year!

I feel incredibly blessed to represent an institution that shows its Christian faith by investing in the next generation of servant leaders. I also feel blessed to be part of a university that has as the heart of its mission a desire to remain a Christ-centered, caring academic community. At the Founders' Day Chapel in March, Dr. Dave Martin, BA 1971, spoke about the ministry of our students while he was an undergraduate here at SBU. By their living as a model of Christ's compassion and befriending a struggling student, they helped win Dr. Martin's heart for Christ. He is now a living example of SBU's impact on young lives as he pastors Concord Baptist Church in St. Louis.

As you read through the stories in this issue of SBU Life, keep in mind that we are very excited about the successes of our current students, faculty and staff, but we are most joyful when we hear stories about the successes of our alumni. It is the stories of hearts won to Christ by SBU graduates and students witnessing on the mission field and on our own campus that make the effort of campaigns like Partners in Excellence worthwhile. My wife, Judy, and I thank you for being a partner in the excellent work undertaken by the Southwest Baptist University family.

SBU UPDATE

Two Honorary Doctorates Awarded During Founders' Day, March 13

During the Founders' Day service, retired faculty and staff were recognized. Dr. David Martin, SBU Class of 1971 and Senior Pastor of Concord Baptist Church, St. Louis, was the featured speaker.

Frank Claiborne received a doctor of divinity degree. Claiborne, a retired pastor, is a member of the SWBC Class of 1949. In 1975, he was awarded the Life Service Award by SBU. Claiborne has degrees from Ouachita Baptist University and Central Baptist Seminary. He began serving as a pastor in 1947 and has started at least 48 Southern Baptist churches. He also has served as director of missions for several Southern Baptist associations, and, for six years, he served as a church starter strategist for the Home Mission Board for the Kansas-Nebraska Southern Baptist Convention. Claiborne has served as chaplain and as president of volunteer hospice organizations in several communities; as charter president of the Kiwanis Club of Republic, Mo.; and, for the past 12 years, as charter quartermaster of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 11242. He and his wife, Ida Vee, have been married for more than 55 years and have three children, seven grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Dianna Lowe received a doctor of business degree. Lowe is a former SBU trustee who served from 1982-1985 and was a member of the building and grounds committee. She and her husband, Carl, are the former owners of Lowe Industries of Lebanon, a successful business in which the Lowes created and marketed a full line of small to mid-sized boats. In 1993, Mrs. Lowe was appointed by Governor Carnahan to serve on the Missouri Business Council. Over the past 25 years, she and Carl have been major contributors to SBU. The Lowes are active members of the First Baptist Church of Lebanon.

Dianna Lowe and Frank Claiborne received honorary doctorates during the Founders' Day chapel service.

SBU Speech and Debate Earn Awards at Annual Missouri Tournament

The Southwest Baptist University speech and debate team earned several awards in the annual Missouri State (MAFA) Forensics tournament held at Drury University, Feb. 17-19. The event involved 12 participating colleges and universities from across the state. In overall team awards at the tournament, SBU finished third in debate sweepstakes and first in individual events, and claimed the first place overall sweepstakes ranking by a very narrow margin. In the individual student pentathlon, David VanBebber of Riley, Kan. ranked fourth among the tournament's list of top ten speakers.

One of the best achievements for SBU was the finish of the novice division debate teams. Speakers Ben Burns, Springfield, Mo.; Vandi Eslit, Riley, Kan.; Andrew Seley, Clay Center, Kan.; Daniel Wilson, Clinton, Mo. and VanBebber were the top ranking speakers in their division, Rachel Ammerman, Paola, Kan., was ranked as seventh speaker in the open division.

Other individual accomplishments for SBU included Ammerman placing third in poetry and Amy Bopp, Topeka, Kan., finishing fourth in poetry and second in communication analysis. Burns was fifth in oration and Jordan Compton earned third in after dinner speaking as well as dramatic interpreta-

SBU CIS Department Announced Approval of 64-bit Platform Research Project

Southwest Baptist University's Department of Computer and Information Sciences announced that Dan Neumann, Associate Professor of Computer and Information Sciences, has embarked on a research project to compare 64-bit platform capabilities. According to Neumann, current computing environments are on the brink of a major change in processing structure.

Neumann's research will include building a platform using a 64-bit processor from AMD. A multi-boot environment will allow the use of all the current 64-bit operating systems as well as both applications and development tools that can utilize these platforms. This method will allow Neumann to engineer various software systems for the purpose of testing the platform.

The two major operating system platforms, Microsoft Windows and Unix (Linux) have standardized its software for these chipsets. AMD has introduced the Athlon 64 and the Opteron system, and Apple has produced systems with a 64-bit, dual core G5 processor. As a result of this, operating systems and application developers have begun to produce software that can utilize these new processors.

Southwest Baptist University's Department of Computer and Information Sciences has garnered multiple national awards in the last two years. It is housed in the nationally ranked College of Business and Computer Science.

SBU Speech and Debate Successful in Kansas Wesleyan Tournament

The SBU speech and debate team competed at the annual forensics tournament hosted by Kansas Wesleyan University Feb. 3-4 in Salina, Kan. The following nine students comprised the team: Ben Burns, Springfield, Mo.; Kari Clark, Hot Springs Village, Ark.; Vandi Eslit, Riley, Kan.; Jessica Kershner, Nixa, Mo.; Sean McCormack, Overland Park, Kan.; Chris Miller, Kansas City, Mo.; Nathan Ross, Riley, Kan.; David VanBebber, Riley, Kan.; and Daniel Wilson, Clinton, Mo.

In overall team awards, SBU placed fourth in debate sweepstakes and second in individual event tabulations. In the category requiring school participation in both debate and individual speaking, SBU finished with the first place sweepstakes recognition. Other top finishing programs included John Brown University, Hutchinson College, and Webster University.

Some achievements for the SBU team included debate quarterfinal advances by teams Wilson and Eslit; Ross and VanBebber; and Burns, who paired with a Kansas Wesleyan speaker. Top debate speakers from SBU included novice speakers Wilson (3rd), Burns (4th), and McCormack (6th) in the open division.

In individual events, Eslit and Kershner placed second in duo interpretation, and VanBebber and Ross finished third. Ross, advancing in five events, placed first in both prose and dramatic interpretation and fourth in both after-dinner speaking and program oral interpretation. Ross also was awarded the fourth place overall individual event accumulations for students competing in at least four events.

SBU Hires New Marketing Director, Names New Director of Estate Planning

During its winter Board of Trustees meeting Feb. 7, Southwest Baptist University announced the hiring of a new director of marketing and communications, as well as the promotion of one employee to the position of director of estate planning.

Sharina Smith began working as SBU's senior director of marketing and communications on

Feb. 13. Smith, a resident of Springfield, Mo., formerly of West Plains, graduated from Bryn Mawr College in Philadelphia, Pa., with a bachelor's degree in English literature, and from West Chester University of Pennsylvania with an MSA in leadership for women. Smith comes to SBU from the administrative staff of Ridgecrest Baptist Church in Springfield.

The office of marketing and communications was formerly the office of public relations and was a part of SBU's development area. The new office of marketing and communications will be part of the University's enrollment management area, and it also will include the department of alumni services.

Steve Whisler has been promoted to the position of director of estate planning, replacing Bob Ingold, who retired during December. Whisler has worked in the SBU development area since 1989 and most recently served as director of church relations. From 1976 to 1981 he served on SBU's music faculty. He is a '71 SBU graduate and also holds a master of music degree from the University of Missouri-Kansas City Conservatory of Music. As director of estate planning, Whisler will continue to serve in the development office. Whisler is a resident of Bolivar.

Nance Inducted into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame

One of Southwest Baptist University's own became part of the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame February 12 as former player and coach Lynn Nance was inducted for his career accomplishments. Nance played basketball as a student and returned to coach at SBU.

Nance, a native of Granby, Mo., was inducted into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame on Sunday, Feb. 12, in Springfield, Mo. He came to SBU when the University was still a junior college and played for the Bearcats in the 1961-62 and 1962-63 seasons. In those two seasons, he became a junior college All-American. He received his A.A. degree from Southwest Baptist College and went on to play two years at the University of Washington, where he was voted all-PAC 8 and an honorable mention all-American. His playing career then continued in the NBA when he was drafted by the St. Louis Hawks.

SBU presented Nance the SBU Life Service Award in 1976 and inducted him into the SBU Sports Hall of Fame in 1983. In 1996, he returned to SBU when he was hired as head men's basketball coach. He coached the Bearcats for three seasons, compiling a 36-42 record, and made the MIAA Tournament in the 1997-98 season.

His coaching career has been very successful in both NCAA Division I and II. He won an NCAA Division II national championship in 1984 at Central Missouri State when his team defeated St. Augustine, 81-77. He left CMSU with an overall record of 114-35 and was named the NCAA Division II "Coach of the Year" and MIAA "Coach of the Year" for his 1984 season.

He has made other head coaching stops at Iowa

State University, St. Mary's College, and the University of Washington. He has coached in the West Coast Athletic Conference and PAC 8. While at St. Mary's, he guided his team to a 61-25 record in three years and to a NCAA Division I Tournament berth. He finished the season with the team ranked #15. He also has been an assistant coach at the University of Kentucky, the University of Washington, and Fresno State.

Nance was inducted with 13 other honorees including St. Louis Cardinals' manager Tony LaRussa and former Kansas State head football coach Bill Snyder. Nance's 1984 CMSU men's basketball team also was inducted into the Hall of Fame for its national championship win.

2006 Staley Lectures Features Nationally Recognized Theologian

Dr. Ben Witherington, professor of New Testament at Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Ky., was the featured speaker for the 2006 Staley Lectures, which were held at Southwest Baptist University Monday, Jan. 30 - Wednesday, Feb. 1.

Witherington earned his undergraduate degree at the University of North Carolina and his Master of Divinity degree from Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary in South Hamilton, Mass. He holds a Ph.D. from the University of Durham in England. Witherington has taught at five different institutions of higher learning, and for the last decade has taught at Asbury Theological Seminary.

A prolific writer, Witherington has published sixteen books and six commentaries. The magazine Christianity Today selected his book The Jesus Quest as the top biblical studies book of 1995.

Witherington has provided a scholarly critique of the controversial "Jesus Seminar." He was recently featured in a CBS television production, "The Mystery of Christmas," which was filmed on site in Israel and broadcast nationally during the week before Christmas. Witherington holds memberships in the Society of Biblical Literature and the Society for the Study of the New Testament, among other recognized professional organizations.

Witherington titled the 2006 Staley Lectures "On Dispensing with Dispensationalism." In the lectures, he challenged many popular misinterpretations of the book of Revelation, such as those popularized in the Left Behind series of books. During his two chapel sermons, Witherington offered a fresh interpretation of Revelation.

SBU's Faculty Member Named "National Professor of the Year"

SBU Communication Arts Assistant Professor Joshua Compton was named Outstanding Professor of the Year for 2005 by the National Speakers Association. Compton is chair of the communication arts department and has been associate coach of SBU's nationally acclaimed forensics team. He earned a bachelor's degree from SBU in 1997 and later received a master's degree from Missouri State University and a doctorate from the University of Oklahoma. Compton has been on the SBU faculty since 1998. Other recent accomplishments of Compton's include being named chair of the Bob R. Derryberry School of Communication Arts, presenting an original research paper at the 2005 International Communication Association conference and the 2005 Midwest Political Science Conference, and serving as a guest lecturer for the Department of Defense Joint Courses in Communication.

Faculty & Staff Honored at 2005 Christmas Banquet

At its annual employee Christmas banquet Dec. 8, SBU recognized Brad Gamble, director of financial aid, and Dr. Robert Glasgow, associate professor of mathematics, with the prestigious "Life Beautiful Award." The University also recognized 43 other employees for dedicating a combined 645 years of service to the University.

The designation "Life Beautiful" is the highest honor a person can receive at Southwest Baptist University. Each year at the employee Christmas banquet, SBU honors a faculty member and a staff member who exemplify a "Life Beautiful." Similarly, each year at spring commencement, two graduating seniors are chosen by the faculty as best exemplifying a "Life Beautiful."

The Faculty Life Beautiful Award was established in 1987. To be eligible for the faculty Life Beautiful Award, a faculty member must have been employed at SBU for four consecutive years, have full-time faculty status and teach a minimum of six hours per semester during the academic year.

Glasgow has been a member of SBU's faculty since 1989. He is a 1984 SBU graduate and has a master's degree from Pittsburg State University and a doctorate from the University of Missouri-Columbia. He and his wife, Betty, have two daughters, Melody and Alyssa.

In 1992 the Staff Life Beautiful Award was added to the list of annual awards presented at SBU. In contrast to the Faculty Life Beautiful Award, anyone on campus can nominate individuals for the staff award. To be eligible for the Staff Life Beautiful Award, a staff member must have been employed at SBU for four consecutive years in a non-faculty position.

Gamble, who graduated from SBU in 1982, has worked at SBU since 1983 and has been director of financial aid since spring 2000. He currently volunteers as the sponsor of SBU's chapter of Habitat for Humanity. He and his wife, Debbie, have three children, Rachel, Brittany, and Jessie.

SBU Business and Computer Science Students Test Among Best in Nation

Students in SBU's College of Business and Computer Science (COBACS) have proven themselves among the best in the nation in terms of business knowledge, scoring at or above 90 percent of all students who take the nationally administered "Major Field Assessment Test" (MFT) in business.

Each graduating class in leading business schools and programs throughout the nation completes the MFT, which is given to more than 80,000 business majors each year at more than 470 institutions.

Designed and scored by the Educational Testing Service (ETS), the same organization that administers the ACT, the MFT scores students and their respective business school or program in eight business disciplines including accounting, economics, management, quantitative skills, finance, marketing, legal environment, and international business. In the most recently administered test, ETS reported that SBU students scored in the 90th percentile.

SBU's College of Business and Computer Science strives to create a rigorous academic program in a decidedly Christian environment. This gives SBU graduates an edge in the marketplace. In addition to being intellectually prepared for their careers, graduates leaving SBU also are emotionally and spiritually prepared to be servant leaders with integrity in the business world.

SBU's students have scored in the top 90th percentile on the MFT for three consecutive graduating classes and have scored above the 83rd percentile on the MFT with nine of the last twelve graduating classes.

Hooper Has Original Work Performed at Composers' Conference

An original work by Dr. William Hooper, Southwest Baptist University professor of music emeritus, was performed at the Region Six Conference of Society of Composers, Inc. in February 2006. Hooper's piece, "Quintandra," was written for brass quintet and was performed during the conference, Feb. 9-11 at Rice University in Houston, Texas.

Hooper has composed more than 60 published choral pieces and six published cantatas. In addition, he has composed numerous instrumental and keyboard pieces. In 1973 he wrote incidental music for Anouhil's "Becket," produced by Le Petite Theatre du Vieux Careé in New Orleans, La.

Hooper also is the author of four books and was the winner of the Delius Composition Contest in 1973 and the New Times Composition Contest in 1974. Dr. Hooper is listed in the newest editions of Who's Who in America and Intellectual Leaders of the 20th Century.

SBU Named One of The Top 10 Christian Business Schools of 2005

SBU was named one of the Top 10 Christian Business Schools of 2005 by Business Reform Magazine in its September/October 2005 issue, placing in two of four categories: Top 10 Business Faculty and Top 10 Best Job Placements. Selections for "Top 10 Business Faculty" were chosen based on how much marketplace experience or business ownership was evident among the professors and teaching staff. Selections for "Top 10 Best Job Placements" were chosen based on how well students are integrated into the workforce after their time in college. SBU was the only university in Missouri to be named to any of the categories in Business Reform Magazine's College Rankings 2005.

Students and Employees Embrace Global Society during 2005

During fall 2005, 12 intercultural studies majors participated in the Semester Abroad program. These students ministered in Ecuador, West Africa, and India as well as in the Pacific Rim countries of Taiwan, the Philippines, and Indonesia. During summer 2005 more than 150 SBU students traveled to mission trip destinations including: Egypt, Thailand, Morocco, San Diego/Tijuana, and Corsica.

The Office of Student Life also has sponsored numerous volunteer opportunities for students and employees, including a trip to assist with filming an episode of ABC's Extreme Makeover: Home Edition benefiting Camp Barnabas, a local Christian summer camp for people with medical, physical or developmental disabilities and their siblings. Students and staff also answered phones for the 2005 MDA Telethon held over Labor Day weekend. In addition, the university assisted in relief efforts for the victims of Hurricane Katrina. Students collected donations, ran a benefit car wash, donated t-shirts, collected supplies for hygiene kits, and helped box items for Convoy of Hope.

Board of Trustees Meets Feb. 6-7

During its winter Board of Trustees meeting Feb. 7, Southwest Baptist University approved two individuals to receive honorary doctorates from the University during the Founders' Day ceremony on March 13.

In other Board action, the trustees approved tenure, promotion, and senior sabbatical recommendations for fall 2006. The following faculty members have received tenure effective for the 2006 fall semester: Martha Baker, St. John's College of Nursing and Health Sciences; Joshua Compton, Geneva Casebolt College of Music, Arts & Letters; Dwight Haun, Lewis E. Schollian College of Education and Social Sciences; and Rodger Minatra, College of Business and Computer Science.

The trustees also passed a resolution acknowledging the importance of increasing the wages and salaries of the University's faculty and staff and approved a University plan to improve wages and salaries in the next fiscal year.

The next trustee meeting is scheduled for May 8-9, 2006.

Cross Wins Prestigious Jane N. Ryland Fellowship

Neal Cross, assistant director of instructional technology at Southwest Baptist University, was awarded a Jane N. Ryland Fellowship for 2006 by EDUCAUSE, the pre-eminent association for higher education information technology professionals.

The EDUCAUSE Ryland Fellowship program was established to expand opportunities for information technology professionals to attend EDUCAUSE events, thus helping to build future leaders. Fellowships recognize a combination of past achievement, personal and institutional commitment, potential benefit, and financial need.

The program bears the name of Jane N. Ryland, who, as president of EDUCAUSE from 1986 to 1998, recognized the importance of educational programs to support and develop information technology professionals throughout higher education.

Cross has been with Southwest Baptist University for 10 years. He lives in Bolivar with his wife, Betsey, and daughters, Sara and Emily.

Enter His Courts With Praise

by Sharina Smith

*Enter his gates with thanksgiving; go into his courts with praise.
Give thanks to him
and bless his name.
(Psalm 100:4, NLT)*

Enter his courts with praise. This phrase graces a poster in SBU Head Basketball Coach Jeff Guiot's office and would seem to be the theme for the team as they have heard the rafters raised in the Meyer Sports Center game after game this season. The Bearcats praise-worthy team has praise for their fans and coaches as well, but most importantly, they praise God for their victories on and off the court.

In a recent interview, Senior Deon Davis, Los Angeles, Calif., said "God has definitely played a role in our season. One of the verses for us has been 'I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me,' Philippians 4:13. That carried us through a few games we shouldn't have won, but we won on last-second shots. We've got unity on the team. We don't have problems being against each other." Around the team room, all the players nodded as Davis acknowledged God's hand on their team.

Senior Frans Steyn, Pretoria, So. Africa, had a more personal testimony to share. "I believe God led me here for a reason. I got saved at my old school, but I was on and off again. I got here and saw people living a life committed to Christ. Since I'm married, I don't get to hang out with the guys as much, but I still feel like family and one of the guys. They even came to see me get baptized. Here, I've made a real commitment to Christ."

Junior Owen Newman, Cave Junction, Or., also shared from the heart about what God has done in his life while at SBU. "I came from a background where religion was forced on me. I tend to doubt things. I was skeptical of the Bible. I think God brought me here to open me to the Bible and help me see the truth – introduce me to the Light. Everybody sins, but I wasn't walking in Jesus' footsteps. At Bible study at Coach's house on Sunday nights, we have a lot of great discussions there and over lunch. I got to see Franz get baptized at Wellspring Church."

Bolivar native, freshman Colt Blair said he felt blessed to be a part of the team, too. "When I was deciding on college, at first I didn't want to come here, I wanted to get away from home. Being close to home has been a blessing, because my parents got to come to every game. You're not going to find a better atmosphere to play ball than here."

Coach Guiot's approach to coaching basketball has been criticized for its intensity, but he also earned praise from his team members. "The coaching staff really cares for us," said Senior Sheldon Pace, Los Angeles, Calif. "You don't get that at other schools. Coming here you feel the coaches care that your head is in the right direction."

Newman said, "I've heard [criticism] about the intensity of coach at games, but we know he loves and cares about us." Steyn added, "'Play hard' was coach's main thing. He'd say, 'Do the right thing. We can't control the outcome.' Coach measures success not by us winning the national championship but by us coming to Christ."

SBU fans' loyal support was acknowledged by all of the team members. Davis said, "The Sixth Man Club, the alumni, and everyone who supports us, who welcomes us into their homes, they're not just concerned with what we do on court. They're concerned about us being Christian. We appreciate all that's been done for us."

In a separate interview, Coach Guiot laughed when his on-court intensity was mentioned, but then he turned serious. "When you go to war, the general doesn't say, 'Hey, bend down, they're shooting at you.' He yells, 'Get down!' It's the same on court," Guiot said. "Sometimes I need to get their attention. The team knows that everybody cared about everybody out there. We built trust and genuine care."

Guiot, too, praised the SBU fans for their support this season, "Our fans have been second to none. Who wouldn't want to be a part of not all in heaven playing basketball, it won't matter. You can get caught up in the season in our basketball world. Games like Sunday [on March 12 when the SBU Bearcats lost to Northwest Missouri State University Bearcats in the NCAA semifinals by a score of 83-80.] help us keep our priorities in line."

"We want to grow spiritually not just athletically. The spiritual growth makes me prouder than our 27-5 record. The SBU basketball program was down when I interviewed here. They asked me if we could win as the only private Christian school in a state-funded school league. I said, 'We've got God on our side, and you're asking me if we can win!?' My God is bigger than this league."

Guiot said he felt the Holy Spirit gave the team certain scriptures for the year. For accountability: As iron sharpens iron, a friend sharpens a friend. (Proverbs 27: 7, NLT). For obedience: You will be blessed wherever you go, both in coming and in going. (Deuteronomy 28:6, NLT). For faith: So, you see, it is impossible to please God without faith. Anyone who wants to come to him must believe that there is a God and that he rewards those who sincerely seek him. (Hebrews 11:6, NLT). For faith without works: So you see, it isn't enough just to have faith. Faith that doesn't show itself by good deeds is no faith at all—it is dead and useless (James 2:17, NLT).

We've had a really special year, but 100 years from now, if we're not all in heaven playing basketball, it won't matter.

—Coach Jeff Guiot

something this special? The student body knows how much the athletes appreciate their support. The athletes really appreciate them. We came up short on our last game. We lost two of our seniors with injuries, but God has been with us this season. He has really blessed us."

Guiot said the team members have a required Bible study every Sunday night at 9 p.m. "Everybody contributes. Everybody speaks. The coaches learn as much as the players. We've had a really special year, but 100 years from now, if we're Guiot said. "It has been a special year from beginning to end. God was with us. For next year, we pray every day that God brings our team together. This year He brought the team from South Africa, Los Angeles, New York, local kids. We want all His blessings for next year. I could give you a testimonial for each kid that's here. You've got to be spiritually dead to not have seen God at work here this year." ■

SBU SPORTS

Football

Under first-year head coach Jack Peavey, the Bearcats played with a positive attitude and finished with a 3-8 record. The team worked toward a stronger program with improvement in every game. This season also brought many new offensive records in the SBU records book.

Individually, senior Joey Maiwelm (Lone Oak, Texas) garnered several awards for his play on defense. He was named all-MIAA second-team and was the MIAA Player of the Week. He was the only MIAA player to record 20 or more tackles in one game and was also named to the Don Hansen all-Southwest Region third-team. His 23 tackles vs. Central Missouri State is a new SBU record for tackles in a game.

Junior Mark Talbert (China Spring, Texas) was also named to the all-MIAA second team at offensive tackle. Six others were named all-MIAA honorable mention with five being on offense: Robert Clardy – QB (Marshfield, Mo.), Moine Nicholson – RB (Louisville, Miss.), Rony Santil – WR (Delray Beach, Fla.), Nick Smart – WR (Marionville, Mo.), Chris Gardener – OL (Keller, Texas), and Clint Carroz – DL (New London, Mo.).

The SBU coaches have signed more than 40 new players for the 2006 season as the program continues to improve.

Volleyball

The Lady Bearcats made forward strides in the program as three players were named all-MIAA. Freshman Whitney Stare (Allen, Texas), sophomore Chelsea Kenney (Stockton, Mo.), and junior Misti Baser (Gerald, Mo.) all received all-MIAA honorable mention status. For Kenney, it was her second consecutive year to receive all-MIAA honorable mention.

In the MIAA, SBU had several individuals finish in the top 10: Stare was fifth in kills; Kenney was sixth in assists (1,152); Candace Zane was third in service aces (47), and Misti Baser was third in digs (612).

Finishing with a 4-30 record, SBU made positive moves forward this year. Head coach Leslie Howe had a young team on the court as they only had one senior. The freshmen class made an immediate impact as Stare broke the SBU single season record for kills with 456. Ashley Sutyak (Lenexa, Kan.) had 181 kills while Shyray Perry (Fair Grove, Mo.) recorded 192 digs.

Howe has already signed three more outstanding athletes for next season and has everyone returning from the 2005 team.

Women's Soccer

Playing in several close matches for the 2005 season, the Bearcats finished with a 4-9-4 record. In the roller coaster ride season under first-year head coach Ben Wade, SBU lost seven of their nine matches by one goal and played in eight overtime games. In the highly competitive MIAA, SBU finished 7th overall but had a key win over #16 Missouri Southern and tied eventual MIAA Champion Truman State, 0-0, in two overtimes.

Senior Priscilla Duncan (Auckland, New Zealand) was named all-MIAA first-team for the second time. She netted the game winning goal vs. Central Missouri State on October 19.

Four other players were named to the all-MIAA honorable mention team: Adrienne Johnson (Springfield, Mo.), Valerie Chaston (Kearney, Mo.), Jenny Jaggard (Minden, Nev.), and Atefeh Heivary (London, England). Heivary also claimed MIAA Player of the Week honors.

Wade is looking forward to a bright future at SBU as he has signed 23 new players for the 2006 season.

Cross Country

The men's and women's cross country teams had their best showing of the year in the final meet at the South Central Regional. The women finished 8th out of 18 teams, and Amy Broadhurst (Raymore, Mo.) finished 10th to be named all-Region. Finishing 12th out of 15 teams, freshman Michael Pierce (Gladstone, Mo.) led the Bearcats with a 14th place finish.

SBU ran in five meets, counting the regional meet, and made improvements in each meet. In the MIAA Championship, the men finished sixth while the women were seventh. Broadhurst claimed all-MIAA honors with an 8th place finish.

Head coach Jeff DeLong, in his first year, will be bringing in 15 new runners next fall to push for a MIAA Championship

Men's Basketball

In one of their finest years ever in the history of the program, the Southwest Baptist University Bearcats won the MIAA regular season championship, the MIAA Tournament championship, and then hosted the NCAA Division II South Central Regional with a #1 ranking. The MIAA championships were a first in 15 years.

Leading the charge was all-American senior Sheldon Pace (Los Angeles, Calif.). Pace was the leader of this team that had the best start in the history of the program at 14-0. He led SBU to as high as #4 in the nation and to the NCAA Tournament. The Bearcats finished with a 27-5 record and were 12-4 in the MIAA.

With their success came many individual awards. Pace picked up the majority of the awards as he was named the MIAA MVP, MIAA Defensive Player of the Year, MIAA Tournament MVP, all-MIAA First Team, all-MIAA Defensive Team, and all-MIAA Tournament team. He was also the MIAA Player of the Week four times. In the region, he was voted onto the all-South Central Region First Team and the all-South Central Regional Tournament team. He was then voted onto the Daktronics NCAA Division II All-America second team. He finished 5th in the nation in assists and had the most assists in the nation in a game at 17 vs. Central Missouri State. With 268 assists and 70 steals, he set a new SBU single season record for assists and steals. Nationally, he was one of only two NCAA Division II point guards selected to compete for the Bob Cousy Award for the top point guard in the nation.

Both Pace and Frans Steyn (Pretoria, South Africa) were selected to play in the inaugural NCAA Division II all-Star game in Springfield, Massachusetts, during the national championship week-end. Steyn was named to the all-MIAA second team and the MIAA all-Defensive team. Claiming MIAA Freshman of the Year was Colt Blair (Bolivar, Mo.).

Jeff Guiot, in only his second season, was named the NCAA Division II Bulletin Coach of the Month for January. Guiot now has a 42-18 record at SBU and coached SBU to their first NCAA Tournament win in 15 years.

Women's Basketball

Replacing several key players from the 2004-05 season, Jim Middleton put a young team on the court for the 2006 season. With senior Amber Wheeler taking a medical redshirt, the Lady Bearcats placed freshmen on the floor often.

SBU started off with an 8-3 record for the year, but with a strong MIAA schedule the Lady Bearcats finished the year at 10-17 and missed the MIAA Tournament for the first time in the Middleton era.

Junior Livia Brito (Sao Paulo, Brazil) was named to the all-MIAA honorable mention team. Senior Casey Beavers made the MIAA all-Defensive team. She finished 4th in steals (2.3 pg) and blocks (1.4 pg) and 5th in rebounding (7.3 pg) in the MIAA.

Baseball

The Bearcats are off to one of their best starts in the Sam Berg era at 11-8. They started the season 9-4 before dropping three games to Augustana College (S.D.).

SBU has split three two-game series with Arkansas Tech twice, and with Rockhurst. They have swept the series with Missouri Southern, to begin 2-0 in the MIAA, and Bemidji State. With a 2-0 start in the MIAA, the Bearcats are among the top teams in the conference.

Junior Chris Martinez (Littleton, CO) was named the MIAA Hitter of the Week on March 21 with a home run and nine RBI performances in three games vs. Upper Iowa. Sophomore Zane Montgomery (Ozark, Mo.) is off to a 7-0 record and needs just three more wins to break the SBU single season record for wins.

MIAA play kicked into high gear after March 25 when SBU finished the second half of the season against MIAA schools.

Softball

Cindy Snead has the Bearcats playing much better in her second season at SBU. The Bearcats are off to a 10-10 start and are 1-3 in the MIAA.

SBU won three of their first four games of the year in the Evangel Early Bird Classic with wins over Concordia, Williams Baptist, and Rogers State. After a loss to Mid-America Nazarene, they reeled off three more wins for a 6-2 record.

Picking up their first MIAA win of the year in the opening MIAA series vs. Missouri Southern, SBU won the second game 6-2 after falling 3-2 in game one.

Sophomore Stephanie Martin (St. Charles, Mo.) is 6-4 with a 1.64 ERA and junior Tara Phillips (Springfield, Mo.) leads SBU with a .418 batting average.

Men's Tennis

Trying to replace the National Player of the Year is difficult as head coach John Bryant is figuring out in his 40th year at SBU. Bryant lost NCAA Division II Player of the Year Dante Cipulli to graduation and has brought several new players to compete for a MIAA Championship.

The Bearcats are 3-10 this year but are improving in every match. SBU is currently 2-1 in the MIAA with wins over Emporia State and NW Missouri State. Senior Peter Joos (Budapest, Hungary) and Daniel Prerad (Perth, Australia) are the top two returning players on the team.

With the national championships in Kansas City, Missouri, this spring, SBU will keep pushing for a NCAA Tournament berth.

Women's Tennis

Looking for their first-ever berth into the NCAA Tournament, the Lady Bearcats are 6-5 on the year and have a 2-1 record in the MIAA.

Improving from last year, the Lady Bearcats took wins over Emporia State and Missouri Southern to which they lost last year. Senior Valerie Jones is 9-1 in singles play and is leading this young SBU squad. Jones and Lynne Klaasen (Kuils River, South Africa) are the two seniors on the team.

SBU will play a strong schedule over spring break in Bolivar and then finish with five matches before the Central Oklahoma Invitational and then a date at the MIAA Championships.

Track

Breaking many indoor track records in the 2006 season, SBU's indoor performances have made the team excited about the outdoor season. SBU will start the outdoor season April 1 in St. Louis, Missouri, at Washington University.

Senior Christine Showler (Lebanon, Mo.) led the women in the MIAA Indoor Championships as she was one of eight runners to be named all-MIAA. Broadhurst, Alyssa Maggart (St. Joseph, Mo.), and Lisa Bunn (Stockton, Mo.) were all-MIAA in their respective events. Senior, Corey McElhaney (Elgin, Okla.), Pierce, and Lester Shelton were named all-MIAA, for the men.

SBU will be ready to make a charge in the 2006 outdoor season with their strong performances from the indoor season.

Golf

The Bearcats have competed in one golf meet in the spring at Arkansas Tech where they finished sixth of nine schools. The team, made up of five freshmen, three sophomores, one junior and one senior, has a bright future with young players.

Freshman Tyler Newton (Willow Springs, Mo.) was the top golfer in the first golf meet of the spring with a 12th place finish.

SBU has four other meets this spring and will try to make their fifth straight NCAA Tournament. SBU will be traveling to Hays, Kansas, on March 27-28 for their second meet of the year. ■

Our students may never meet the individuals who funded their scholarships, but they will never forget them.

Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steward established an endowed scholarship at SBU to be activated after their deaths. Although the Stewards will never be able to meet their scholarship recipients, the students receiving the Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steward Memorial Scholarship will never forget that this couple enabled them to attend SBU.
